

Are there enough cats in your books? Are you sure? Well, MAKE SURE!

These cats are free to be used any way you like privately or in education, but not for any sort of profit. Copyright © Viviane Schwarz 2010. All rights reserved. Please send photographs of the cat's adventures to herself@vivianeschwarz.co.uk.

Or would you rather like to make them a playground? Get some colourful paper out of the recycling and cut it up into toys for the cats, and glue it all together into a picture. When you are happy with it, ask your parents to frame it and take it along to the nearest museum.

Quick, cut these cats out and put them in a book! They especially like to visit adventure novels and recipe books.
